Elementary Classroom Teachers

Capital City is looking for dedicated and talented elementary classroom teachers for 2019-2020 school year.

These are 10-month positions, which are exempt and therefore not eligible for overtime pay under the provisions of the Fair Labor Standards Act.

The many and varied responsibilities of a classroom teacher at Capital City include:

- Planning and teaching all core subjects (reading, math, science, social studies)
- Utilizing a workshop model to differentiate instruction and promote student engagement
- Developing meaningful learning expeditions and projects
- Designing curriculum maps to sequence the teaching of content
- Regularly assessing student progress and using data to plan for instruction
- Meeting and planning collaboratively at least weekly with a grade-level team
- Working with an inclusion teacher to plan for and support students with special needs
- Mentoring a Capital City Teaching Assistant or Resident Fellow from the Center for Inspired Teaching
- Developing a strong classroom culture through the Responsive Classroom® model
- Communicating regularly with families
- Involving students in fieldwork and service that deepens understanding and interest
- Supporting students with completing portfolios and meeting passage requirements
- Attending a summer institute and weekly professional development sessions
- Completing narrative progress reports
- Communicating regularly with parents and families

At least two of the following are required: Master's degree in education or related field, 2+ years of full-time teaching experience, standard teaching certification. Elementary teachers must also have passed the required Praxis II exams. Additionally, candidates should have: a commitment to meeting the needs of a diverse population, experience working in urban environments, strong knowledge of pedagogy and experience teaching in a constructivist way, proven ability to work as a member of a team, strong leadership capabilities, and a commitment to their own learning.

Compensation and Benefits: Capital City offers a competitive salary commensurate with experience and a comprehensive benefits package
