

An award-winning EL Education School in Washington, DC

High School Mathematics and Science Coach

Capital City High School is looking for an experienced and dedicated education professional to serve as the Math and Science Coach for our High School campus. The Math and Science Coach (MSC) will work to ensure the quality and consistency of math and science instruction by providing professional development and individual coaching, with an emphasis on supporting teachers new to Capital City. Capital City serves a diverse population and seeks a staff reflective of our student body. African American, Asian, and Latino candidates are strongly encouraged to apply.

This is a 10-month position, which is exempt and therefore not eligible for overtime pay under the provisions of the Fair Labor Standards Act.

The many and varied responsibilities of the MSC include:

- Provide instructional coaching for math and science classroom teachers, in the form of observation and feedback, demonstration lessons, and video-taped lessons and analysis.
- Assist teachers in providing differentiated instruction through workshop structures, curricular modifications, project design and planning.
- Support the implementation of Expeditionary Learning and CES principles and components. Assist teachers in planning learning expeditions and identifying resources.
- Provide assistance for new teachers on instructional practices, including offering a seminar for new teachers on a weekly basis in the fall and a monthly basis in the Spring.
- Work with the Instructional Coach and Instructional Leadership Team to plan and lead professional development for teachers, including a summer institute and the development of professional development plans for new lead teachers.
- Consult with high school staff on the assessment of student work and the collection and analysis of student performance data leading to data-driven results/positive student outcomes.
- Involve teachers in the process and coordinate summer and school-year curriculum work teams.

At least two of the following are required: A minimum of three years of middle/high school teaching experience with diverse student populations; Masters degree in education; previous experience in developing and writing curriculum. A background in Expeditionary Learning or the Coalition of Essential Schools is strongly preferred. Candidates should have a strong knowledge of the instructional methods employed at Capital City, including project-based learning and differentiated instruction. Previous teacher leadership experience is helpful. Spanish-speakers are strongly desired.

Compensation and Benefits: Capital City offers a competitive salary commensurate with experience and a comprehensive benefits package

To Apply: Email your resume and letter of interest to capitalcityjobs@ccpcs.org. Please include the position title in the subject line of your email. Visit our website at www.ccpcs.org for additional information about our organization.

About Our School: Capital City was founded in 2000 and now serves 993 students in grades PK-12. In 2012, the entire school relocated to a newly renovated single campus in Ward 4. Capital City has been a model for school reform in the District. The school implements the EL Education model (www.elschools.org). Through this model teachers craft expeditions that incorporate projects, research, fieldwork, and service to support students in meeting rigorous standards. Capital City's program also emphasizes a strong social curriculum, a commitment to diversity, a strong inclusion model and the integration of arts into the curriculum.

Capital City is an equal-opportunity employer. We do not discriminate on the basis of race, color, national origin, marital status, religion, sex, age, sexual orientation, disability, or any other protected status. All employment decisions will be made solely on the basis of the individual's qualifications as related to the requirement of the position being filled.